OUR PUBLIC LANDS.

Judge A. C. Bradford, Register of the U. S. Land Office at San Francisco, lately delivered a lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association in that city on a subject of intense interest, and entitled "The Public Lands of the United States and the Laws Regulating the Disposal of the Same." The lecturer commenced by saying that it was not yet too late for a man to secure public land. While living under this great Government we do not think of the vast extent of the country, which has an area of no less than 3,581,389 square miles. After the great Revolution the United States had only 828,000 square miles, the rest having been acquired since. Under Jefferson Louisiana was ceded to us by France, on April 30, 1803. It had an extent of 926,149 square miles, and was purchased for $27,367,000. Oregon is generally considered a part of the Louisiana purchase, but this is a mistake. It was acquired at the time Spain ceded Florida. By the Oregon purchase we got 251,562 square miles of territory. On February 22, 1819, East and West Florida were purchased from Spain, having an area of 59,268 square miles, for $5,480,000. Texas, an area of 275,000 square miles, was acquired in 1845. Under Polk, in February, 1848, we purchased from Mexico 522,538 square miles for $15,000,000. In February, 1853, the Garrison purchases were made, the United States receiving 45,525 square miles of territory for $10,000,000. On March 30, 1867, under Johnson, Alaska was purchased from Russia. This is an area of 577,390 square miles, and the price paid for it was $7,200,000.

Concerning the title to the land, the Government of course grants that. It is a strange fact that the settlers have not been first considered. After the Revolutionary war, there being no revenue with which to start and support the Government, immense tracts of land were sold to capitalists. The lecturer thought it a most singular thing that at that time the settlers were looked upon as intruders and trespassers on the public lands, and there was a law passed to drive them off the territory, and the aid of the military was called in to carry it out. From 1785 to 1841 there never was a genuine pre-emption law passed. The Government during all that time was on the side of the speculator. There were limited pre-emption laws, but the first permanent one was passed December 14, 1841, by which the settlers being allowed 160 acres of land, so many years to pay for them at $1.25 an acre.

The Homestead law was of later growth. Stephen A. Douglas introduced a bill into the Senate in December, 1849, but the President vetoed it on the ground that it would foster the dangerous doctrines of Communism and Socialism so prevalent then in European countries. It was left for Andrew Johnson and Mr. Julian, of Indiana, to make the successful attempt to carry the bill, and it was signed on May 20, 1862, by President Lincoln, giving land to every man or woman who will live on it for five years. There are several enactments now. There are the Pre-emption law, Timber Act, Timber Culture Act, Desert Land Act and Homestead Act.

THE DECISION.

The Gazette pretends that the Supreme Court decision is a serious blow to the Reduction Works, and will be disastrous in its consequences. This is all a dream. The Reduction Works will continue as prosperous as ever, and will have all the water it requires for its purposes. It holds what it has by prior appropriation and the State cannot take it away. The State can only take the surplus water the Reduction Works does not need. We do not understand that the State even pretends to claim other than the extra water.

United States District Judge Brown, of Michigan, is being urged by General Alger for appointment to the vacancy on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States created by the death of Justice Stanley Matthews.

Governor Barleigh, of Maine, has appointed General Neal Dow Commissioner to the Paris Exposition. General Dow acted in the same capacity at the Paris Exposition in 1857.

There is a growing possibility that Judge Cooley, Chairman of the Interstate Commission, may be chosen as Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed the late Justice Matthews.

Some of the Nevada climate ought to be sent to the Paris Exposition. The Frenchmen always enjoy the best of everything.

Chief Justice Beatty, of California, would be the successor of Stanley Matthews, if the JOURNAL was the appointing power.

Reno still rides on the wave of prosperity. It will be a great city one of these days.

The prospects are very encouraging for a great military post at Reno.

Rhode Island yesterday elected Nathan T. Dixon, U. S. Senator, to succeed Chase.

There is nothing the matter with Harrison. He's all right.

Lincoln.

"I saw Judge Gresham the other day," said a congressman the other evening, "and he expressed surprise that Mr. Lincoln had accepted the English mission. 'Lincoln,' says Judge Gresham, 'is making more money than any lawyer or firm of lawyers in Chicago, and what is more he has his mother's sense of saving and investing it. There can be but one object, so far as I can see, in his going to London, and that is to embrace the first opportunity presented to show his metal, distinguish himself as a diplomat and secure the Presidential nomination.'" This statesman added that in the judgment of Mr. Gresham Mr. Lincoln is the most formidable Presidential timber in the country outside of the present occupant of the white house.

Mahone Getting Even.

WASHINGTON, April 8th.—It is a matter of comment that only the absolutely necessary appointments have been made to fill vacancies in the Virginia Postoffices. Senator Mahone has served a notice upon Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson that if what he calls the clique of malcontents in the Republican party of Virginia are to be recognized in the distribution of Federal patronage, he will not lift his finger to put a Republican ticket in nomination in Virginia next Fall, and as Mahone controls the organization absolutely, Mr. Clarkson is moving with great deliberation and caution.

The Government of Alaska.

WASHINGTON, April 8th.—Secretary Noble and President Harrison had a long interview to-day relative to the appointment of the Governor of Alaska. All of the papers relative to the different candidates were sent from the Interior Department to the White House, and it is expected that the appointment will be made in a few days.

Boulanger Cool.

PARIS, April 9.—Boulanger's supreme complacency in the face of the outcry which has been raised against his flight from Paris, is proving now to be well justified by revelations which have occurred and by the course which events are taking. It would be safer to predict the fall of the Tirard Ministry than the crushing of Boulangerism.

The San Francisco Bulletin says travel to the Yosemite is very brisk at present. The valley is said to be looking its prettiest, and the roads are in excellent shape. During the two weeks that travel to the valley has been in progress, fully 200 persons have gone to the great park. The valley was declared open for visitors this season fully a month earlier than for many years.

It is said that Senator Stanford will contribute $50,000 and R. H. McDonald $25,000 towards a new Methodist temple in San Francisco to cost $250,000. Stanford's subscription is conditional that Rev. Dr. Newman shall be pastor.

Congressman Flower, of New York, is on his way West. He is deeply interested in the irrigation problem and desirous of securing a system by which lands in Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Texas, where he has possessions, can be provided with water.

The Secretary of State is informed that Ecuador will be represented at the conference of American States to meet at Washington on the 4th of October next.

"Sauset" Cox will go to Montana in the interest of the Democratic candidates for office there.

Rhode Island has again gone to balloting for U. S. Senator. If Little Rhody is experiencing much trouble she can easily have Nevada settle the matter.

The President will not leave Washington before the 19th instant, when he will go to New York to attend the Centennial celebration.

All of the candidates for the speakership of the Fifty-first Congress say there will be an extra session of Congress in October.

Mrs. General Grant will probably rent her house in New York and accompany her son and his family to Vienna.

Not Afraid of the Editors.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Dem.) Harrison seems to be avoiding at least one of Cleveland's mistakes. He does not appear to consider himself in danger whenever the editor of a party paper comes within speaking distance of him, and he is not afraid to appoint one to a foreign mission, heretofore reserved for prominent party bosses.

Editors and the Offices.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Journalism is not honored when it enters into the scramble for the offices and struggles for its share of the patronage. The public are not fools. They know why this editor or that is given an honorable, lucrative place. He has worked and has been paid. Journalism is hard, not helped, by such recognition.

The Real Spellbinder.

Indianapolis Journal: Thus far the editors seem to be in better favor with the Administration than the spellbinders. In truth, editors address vastly larger audiences than orators do, and they address them after campaigns are over and in off years, when the voice of the spellbinders is not heard in the land.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Vive l'Appropriation!—Abas l'Agrarian!—Reversal of the Case of Vansickle vs. Haines.

Speaking of the Supreme Court decision in the water case the Enterprise says:

In the above entitled cause plaintiff relied solely upon riparian ownership, and upon the decision of the Supreme Court of Nevada in the case of Vansickle vs. Haines, upholding that doctrine. The case was tried before Judge Bigelow, in Reno, very long ago, who returned a verdict for plaintiff, and, closed in his decision that if the Supreme Court of this State intended to reverse the decision in Vansickle against Haines by their decision in Jones vs. Adams it devolved upon the Court to do so in a manner plain enough for ordinary mortals to understand. Bigelow's words, while not as plain as the foregoing, meant the same thing.

The opinion of the Court in Vansickle vs. Haines was written by Judge J. E. Lewis and was concurred in by Judges Whitman and Garber—forming a trio of judicial lions. Judge Lewis never before showed so much study, research and care as he did in this case. He took the law from Edward's time in England and traced it to date of writing. He fortified himself often by consultation with his bosom friend, W. E. F. Deal, and his big brained associates, and he built a structure that is pointed at to-day as a judicial Gibraltar—except: He failed to take account of the economic conditions of the country in which we live. Water, in some countries, is a nuisance, and in others it is a jewel. We have drain ditches in the East and irrigating ditches in the West. We have riparians in the East and appropriators in the West. Judge Lewis lived long enough to change his mind on this question and witness the building that once looked so faultless a shapeless mass like the vapors of a mind delirious.

In the case of Jones vs. Adams the Supreme Court spoke in a cowardly manner. It failed to state what part of the decision of Vansickle vs. Haines it reversed. It was an equivocal decision. The Court did not like to admit it had once maintained a false position. If it had spoken plainly in Jones vs. Haines, it would never have been called upon by the case of Reno Reduction Works vs. State to explain what it meant by its opinion in Jones vs. Adams, and the State would have been saved much expense—brought on by the false pride and dignity of the Court.

We understand that the Reno Reduction Works have some four legal points remaining to entitle them to the full control of the water power created by their dam even under the law of appropriation, and the case will probably go to the United States Supreme Court.

A Popular Scheme.

The Union Building and Loan Association is proving very popular. Subscriptions to the stock are coming in liberally from Reno, and many persons in Carson and Virginia have written here to ascertain the details, expressing a desire to invest some money in the scheme. The proposition is a good one, and will certainly be a success.

The Carson Appeal says:

Reno newspapers seem to be doing well. The Gazette which is very much improved of late, has entered another volume, and the Journal is enlarged, with a new dress and wider columns. We are pleased to see that Reno does so well by its papers and also happy to know that they deserve it.

The Big Four Cities in a Bunch.

Nowhere should the advantage of competition be greater than to Philadelphia and her big neighbor cities on the north and south. The position of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington in a straight line along the coast and within a distance of one another of little over 200 miles, is unique. The world has nothing to equal it. Giving Washington a population of 200,000, Baltimore 400,000, Philadelphia 1,000,000, and New York city, with Brooklyn, over 2,250,000 people, here are four cities, with an aggregate population of at least 4,000,000, set down within easy reach of one another. It is these circumstances which the world cannot equal. The only conditions like it are found in the north of England, in the group of manufacturing cities east of Liverpool. There are to be found Leeds, Elmsfield, Manchester and Birmingham at close quarters in crowded England. But to four of them, nor the five together, equal the "Big Four" of the Atlantic Coast.

Valuable Bible.

A Mazarrin Bible brought $10,000 at a recent auction sale in London.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle feb. 21-sw-ly.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOM'S PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

Cottonwood District.

The Lyon County Times says:

Very little is written and very little is yet known about this district, which is situated about 95 miles northeast of Reno, in Washoe county. Mr. H. B. Miller, who is interested in some mining property in the Cottonwood District, was in Dayton this week, and from him the following information was obtained: In 1881 Mr. Miller discovered a ledge of silver in the section of country spoken of, and ever since has been rustling to get capital to take hold of some of his prospects. He has succeeded so far that a ten stamp mill is now being erected to work the ore obtained from one of the mines, known as the Hornet. The parties interested in this property are Judge J. E. Harris, Messrs. Fitzgerald and McGahey and Mr. Miller. Considerable work has been done on the Hornet mine, as well as on some other claims in the district. The Hornet, however, is the principal claim. On this mine a shaft has been sunk 150 feet, and at this depth a five-foot ledge has been struck which has a vein from 6 to 13 inches wide of ore that will assay on an average $300 per ton. Assays have been obtained that go as high as $1,900 per ton. The rich bunches of ore lie in pockets, and the ore is somewhat base, but it is thought that a process has been found by which it can be worked up to 80 per cent. at least. The mill, which is run by steam, is nearly completed, and it will soon be known whether the proposition will be a paying one or not. There is an abundance of wood close at hand, therefore fuel is cheap.

Mr. Miller has also discovered in this district a peculiar metal, which he is now having analyzed in San Francisco, and which he thinks is cobalt or nickel. It is a very peculiar ore, when broken presents the appearance of the end of a broken bar of steel. This ore is very plentiful, and should it prove to be nickel, a ledge of it will be considered quite valuable property.

Constable Upson returned from Lovelock last night with a darkey and a young white fellow, whom he has taken in for burglarizing Mrs. Thomas' residence last week.

The Journal Job Office is a busy place, and the force of skilled workmen have not a minute to spare. All orders executed, as the old saying goes, with neatness and dispatch.

J. E. Gilmore has closed out his cigar and notion stand next to Hammond's stables and is preparing to emigrate to Washington Territory, where he is speculating in town lots.

The Reduction Works will have all the water it wants, notwithstanding the Supreme Court decision. The court is not powerful enough to take the water out of the Truckee river.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower Court in the case of Jacob Winters vs. Robert Fultstone. There were nearly $1,000 costs in the case, which Winters will have to pay.

Spring activity is perceptible. The season opens better in Reno than it did two years ago, when the town was so lively. There is more building operations in progress now than then, and the outlook is favorable for over $100,000 in new work this year.

Judge Marshall is finding lots of good ore in his Fenwick mine. Late assays go as high as $157. Just now the water in the bottom of the shaft is giving some trouble, but the Judge will some day show up a big bonanza, and make Reno an immense city.

University hill is the scene of considerable excitement. Burke Bros. have commenced work in earnest on the Agricultural Station, and Harry Brown and his crew, and the University boys, are making the dirt fly for flower beds and walks.

Regent Fish has both hands and eyes full in keeping a general watch over the force.

Mr. Boles, an Eastern Nevada business man and brewer, has determined to settle down in Reno. He has entered into partnership with Caspar Becker, son-in-law of John Hofmann, bought out the soda works of Henry Rohrs and leased the Hofmann brewery from after May 1st next. A large building for the soda works has been built on the rear of the brewery and extensive additions and improvements are being otherwise made. The large hall will be fitted up in first-class style for dancing parties, and the adjacent grounds laid out for a summer garden.

An Exodus of Sheep-Shearers.

During the past few days over fifty sheep-shearers have departed for eastern sheep camps, their absence making the town a little dull. Others will follow in a short time and about June the little army will return to spend their money and leisure in the Riverside borg. The ruling price for shearing this year averages seven cents a head, and board generally added. Some of the most expert can shear over 250 a day—a neat day's work. Though the work is hard and continuous, the pay is so good and the system of payment for what one does, instead of a given day's wages, so attractive, that many have been attracted to the occupation and as a result Reno can boast of being the headquarters of the steadiest and most expert shearers on the entire coast, no locality barred. It is said that among them can be found college and professional men attracted by the open air, free life and good remuneration.

Admitted to Practice.

On Saturday last, the Supreme Court admitted Professor L. D. Brown, of the State University, as an attorney to practice in all the courts of this State, upon presentation of a certificate from the courts of the State of Ohio. Mr. C. H. Gest, a young gentleman who has been studying for some time with Judge King, of Reno, passed a very creditable examination in open Court, and was duly admitted as an attorney on the same day.
